BOILED IT DOWN.

Whatever you have to say, my friend,
Whether witty, or grave, or gay,
Condense as much as ever you can,
And say in the readiest way;
And whether you write of rural affairs,
Or particular things in town,
Just take a word of friendly advice—
Boil it down.

For if you go splattering over a page,
When a couple of lines would do,
Your butter is spread so much, you see,
That the bread looks plainly through.
So when you have a story to tell,
And would like a little renown,
To make quite sure of your wish, my friend,
Boil it down.

When writing an article for the press,
Whether prose or verse, just try
To utter your thoughts in the fewest words,
And let them be crisp and dry;
And when it is finished, and you suppose
It is done exactly brown,
Just look it over again, and then
Boil it down.

For editors do not like to print
An article lazily long,
And a general reader does not care
For a couple of yards of song,
So gather your wits in the smallest space,
If you'd win the author's crown,
And every time you write, my friend,
Boil it down.

Miscellaneous.

English Domination Aided by American Free Trade.

Better sense never was written than the subjoined letter by an American gentleman resident abroad for several years, and more recently a sojourner near Liverpool, England. Deeply as we are interested in protecting home labor, the English manufacturer is interested in its destruction. England's greatest single customer is the United States; and every demonstration of the United States Congress towards free trade, or lower duties, adds to the power and the wealth of the British government at home and abroad, without in the slightest degree reducing the price of the fabric produced. Thus our free trade legislation helps nobody but the English. Read the remarkable evidence of the letter we copy on this point. So that, while pauperizing our own labor; and paying taxes in lieu of revenue gathered from foreign imports, we get no goods cheaper from the British market. Observe, also, the startling appeal to the Irish in America. Is it too much to expect that our adopted citizens will some day truly understand that the best way to strike England is to oppose free trade in America, and to support the party that protects American industry? Pondering these views, and comparing them with the theories of the revenue reformers in Congress and elsewhere, it seems almost impossible to account for the blindness with which certain American newspapers and leaders insist upon establishing in this country a system which has produced so much destitution in every land that has adopted it; but as the English manufacturers must have a market here they do not hesitate, doubtless, at all sorts of convincing arguments:—

LIVERPOOL, June 17, 1870.

DEAR SIR:—Your letter has been duly received. I am glad that there are some people left to think as much of their own country and their own countrymen as they do of the English. If the free traders could but be on this side, and see the interest taken and the exultation manifested among their English friends here at every move they make to break down our manufactures, and render us dependent upon England, I think they would pause in their efforts, unless they are entirely destitute of patriotism, or have sold themselves to the English manufacturers. These men are doing more in our Congress for the protection of England and English interest than it is possible for any English Parliament, to do; and there is no question here, either before the Parliament, or that is agitating the people, that receives one-half part the attention, or is regarded as of one-half part the importance, of the free-trade question in the United States. It is of all others the great and leading question of the day among them, for they see and understand that upon it depends not only their commercial greatness, but their strength and power as one of the leading nations of the world as well. We take now from England about one-fifth of all the manufactured productions which she sells to foreign nations. Stop this sale to us, and she becomes bankrupt and ruined, and ceases to be a leading power among the nations.

Double these sales, as you would if you adopted the policy of the free traders, and you not only suntain her in the position she now occupies, but you add to her material wealth, increaseg really her resources, and give her additional strength and power as a nation. It is her material wealth alone that gives her the strength and power she now wields. I need not say to you, for you understand it as well as myself, that what England would gain by the adoption by us of this policy, we should lose. It would take from us, and accumulate and heap it up in London. The people here see and understand this fully, and are patriotic enough, whatever their politics, so far as our country is concerned, to all pull together, and discreet enough to keep their feelings upon the subject within bounds, knowing that any demonstration by them, or seeming exultation in England, would damage their cause, and destroy the influence of their friends, the free traders, in the United States, and liberal enough to spend any amount of money through their agents in New York, Boston, and other cities, that may be nessary to buy up and demoralize the press and our politicians. They can well afford to spend money, for their own individual welfare, as well as national existence as one of the great powers of the earth, depends upon their market in the United States for their manufactured goods. They manage well. A casual visitor in England would be unable to discover or detect the extent of their feelings in this matter; it is necessary to live among them fully to discover it. Our free traders are not only legislating for and working in the interest of the people of England and for England*men*, but they are doing it at the expense of our people, and I venture to say that the injury to the trade and business of their own country would be far more than it would be possible for a dozen "Alabamas" to do if set loose upon us. The worst of it is, that our people, by adopting this policy, lose much and gain nothing. It helps the English and nobody else, while it injures ourselves. If it would but cheapen the price of the English goods which we should then be compelled to buy, there would be more reason or excuse for it, but it would not even do this. It will break down our manufactures, throw our people out of employment, and make us dependent upon England. It will do this and nothing less. If our people are foolish enough to believe that they will reap the benefit of the reduction of duties to the amount taken off, they will find themselves greatly deceived, for no such result will follow. Take, for instance, the article of iron. There is no iron man in the kingdom but what will tell you if you ask (that is, if he has the truth in him), that a reduction of duty in the United States will put up the price of iron in England. I have talked with many of them, and they all admit it to me. This is perfectly understood. It will give them larger prices and larger profits, while we should have to pay the same or about the same. That which now goes to the customs, and helps to pay our national debt and the expenses of our Government, would go to the English manufacturer, help to enrich him, and to this extent add to the wealth of England. We should pay this to the English, and then be compelled to put our hands in our pockets and pay it over again in the way of a tax to support our Government.

While the bill was under consideration in the House, the committee reduced the duty from nine to five dollars per ton on pig iron, a reduction of four dollars, equal to about sixteen shillings. It was admitted to me by iron men that if this had become the law, pig iron would have edvanced in price at least twelve shillings per ton at once, and probably sixteen. The managers of the different steamship companies here, running to the States, have a weekly meeting. At one of their meetings this proposed reduction on iron was brought up and discussed. They were all most anxious that it should take place, the leading speakers asserting that the effect would be to put up the prices of pig iron at least three dollars per ton to the manufacturers, and to give them, the companies, from one dollar to one dollar and a half per ton more freight for carrying. These are facts, and not fanciful theories, and would follow just as certain as the night follows the day, if the reduction is made.

To give you an instance of how this works, you know that the duty on cigars in England has been reduced within the past few years very much. According to the free-trade theories the effect of this should have been to redu

R. B. BARGER & CO.

It is the true policy of every nation to manufacture its raw material as near the point of its production as possible.

The manufacture of the raw material at home maintains a sound currency, prevents fluctuations, and averts bankruptcy.

The Republican party has nothing to defend—the Democratic party its whole history for the last decade to repent and atone for.

In Missouri the indications are that only Congressmen will be returned for another term who were faithful to the interests of home labor.

"In the freest country," says M. Thiers in his great speech of January 22, 1870, "arrangements are made to protect the different branches of native industry."

A month ago Napoleon pompously proclaimed that "France accepts the war which Prussia offers." A month hence the Paris Ministry will publicly declare that "France accepts the peace which Prussia proffers."

There is not one single manufactured article whose free admission into this country directly or indirectly benefits the working classes; on the contrary, every manufactured article admitted duty free more or less supplants some similar article of American manufacture.

Forty years since Germany swarmed with mendicants, and was the by-word of nations. To-day a begger is there a rare sight, and Germany has made her mark as the great European power. How has this result been brought about? Wholly and solely by means of protection, which has enabled her to develop a magnificent and an ever-increasing diversified industry and a splendid civilization.

"To plant the manufactures by the side of the farmer is the true and sure way to increase the recompense of the husbandman's toil; even though his metals, his implements, his wares, and his fabrics, should cost him more money under a protective policy than under free trade, he would nevertheless pay for them with less of produce or labor, and in the operation gain the large benefit of greater diversity of interests in the community."—General Jackson.

The Pittsburg Review says: We expressed our fears some weeks ago that the Free Traders in this State would receive material aid from the attempted divisions in the Republican party by disappointed office-seekers and spoils hunters under the disguise of Reformers. The fears have happily been dispelled by later events, and we are assured by letters from leading and influential men that the unity of the party of Protection in the State was never better assured. The persistent effort in this county to stultify the intelligence of the people by claiming that the half dozen men comprising the late reform movement are adding to their number, is causing to be treasured up against its authors a day of wrath, against which they can advance no satisfactory plea.

Republican Sympathy with Germany.—The following resolutions were passed at the recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Union League of America:

Resolved, That this Committee heartily sympathize with the German people in their present war with Napoleon, recognizing, as we do, that it is not a contest between the French people and the Germans, but an effort on the part of an unprincipled adventurer to disturb the peace of Europe for his own personal aggrandizement.

Resolved, That the subordinate Councils throughout the United States be requested to manifest their sympathy by donations in aid of the local societies, and by resolutions showing our sincere sympathy with Germany, the friend of education and of civil and religious liberty.

Germany, by means of protection, and in the absence of any central despot says the Philadelphia Press has become a land instinct with local activity and life—a body the blood of which circulates freely through every artery and vein, and thus are the foundations of her prosperity planted broad, deep, and enduring. France is a centralized despotism, which has been ruled over for twenty years by a man who has been unwittingly paving the way for his own downfall by aggrandizing Paris at the expense of the empire—thus creating an organism, or a body, nearly all the blood of which is to be found about the region of the head. No living being, or no nation, can retain life, health, and strength under such conditions—apoplexy at the head, with paralysis at the extremities. So soon as paris and the army tire of the modern Cæsar, then comes the end of his imperialism.

THE WORKINGMAN'S PARTY.

There is, there has been and there can be, but one real workingman's party in this country. That is the party of equal rights and progress, known as the Republican party. It is the only party which has ever done anything for the workingman, and this it has done in the true spirit of justice, by seeking to secure to every individual the full enjoyment of his natural rights, and an equal voice in moulding the affairs of local, State and national government. It puts the destiny of the individual in his own hands, by giving all, without distinction of race, color or previous conditon, an equal chance in the race of life. Any party which seeks or pretends to do more or less for the workingman, is an injury both to him and to the country at large; for, let it perpetually be borne in mind, that the true interests of the individual and of the nation are identical and never antagonistic, and that what really promotes the one promotes the other. In all cases where these interests seem to clash, either the individual or the government, if not both, is at fault.

The Republican party, therefore, seeks to improve the condition of the workingman by administering the affairs of the government in accordance with the principles of equal and exact justice to every individual, class and race. To this end it has always worked and is steadily working. In the language of the Iowa Republican State Convention:—"It has given to the poor man a homestead; it has abolished slavery and established manhood suffrage, crushed treason, given us the Pacific railroad, settled the right of self-expatriation, and maintained the honor, integrity, and credit of our nation. It has vindicated the Monroe doctrine by preventing foreign powers from interfering with the government on this continent. To perpetuate it in power is the only safe guaranty for peace and prosperity in the future."

Nearly all these advantages have been secured in the face of persistent and often violent Democratic opposition. The Democratic party unanimously opposed the homestead law; it originated and sympathized with the rebellion: it bitterly resisted emancipation, and even now denounces manhood suffrage; it has steadily abused the government for its aid in the building of the Pacific railroad; it advocated the dishonest and pernicious doctrine of repudiation; it fraternized with the invader of Mexico, and now warmly sympathizes with him in his war upon German unity. Everywhere, the Democratic party shows itself to be the enemy of progress and good government, and in favor of those abominable race and class distinctions which degrade the workingman to the level of the brute, and must ever continue to so degrade him as long as they are tolerated.

There is no justice or safety in any organization which seeks to specially promote the interests of any one class of citizens at the expense of others. A capitalists' party, a producers and manufacturers' party, or a workingman's party, within the circumscribed meaning of these terms, would be at once a menace to all other class interests, and would not only provoke the organization of political parties or factions for the special protection of each distinctive class, but create such divisions that anarchy and violence would sooner or later become inevitable. Hence, we must not for a moment tolerate the idea of arraying the employer against the employe, the capitalist against the business man, the manufacturer and producer against the laborer, the rich against the poor, the strong against the weak, nor encourage any of the antagonisms so freely prated about and advocated by the shallow if not vicious demagogue. We must seek rather, by just laws and efficient administration, to harmonize all these superficially antagonistic interests. Justice, universal justice, and not special privileges and advantages, is what we should perpetually aimat. Equal justice will wrong no man, and give no good cause for complaint even to the most selfish.

All who are in favor of just government, and of not only doing to others as they would be done by, but of asking nothing for themselves that they are not wiling to accord to their neighbors, must elect to go with the Republican party, which is earnestly laboring to promote the general welfare, to make the individual free, and to give him equal opportunities everywhere. This is not the work of a day, but of all time, and demands the earnest attention and co-operation of every lover of justice and humanity. It cannot be accomplished by throwing power into the hands of a non-progressive, sectional hate-breeding and race and class distinction party, like the Democratic; nor by getting up political organizations based on special manufacturing, capital, trade, or labor interests. Any party to be successful and do good, must be organized on principles as universal as those lying at the foundation of our institutions, and based on the natural order of things. It must not only comprehend every individual and class, but recognize and seek to guard the rights and interests of every individual and class. Such an organization is the Republican party, and such are its aims, as is abundantly testified by its record. It is the working man's and every other man's party, and deserves the support of all.

POLITICAL.

Senator Howe, of Wisconsin, is suggested in some quarters as successor to Mr. Frelinghuysen for the St. James Mission.

Hon. James L. Orr of South Carolina has published a letter announcing his adhesion to the Republican party in that State.

The Humboldt (Nev.) Register, for many years a strong advocate of Democratic principles, has come out for the Republican party.

The Republicans of Perry county have made the following nominations: Congress, Charles A. Barnett; State Senate, Langhorne Wister; Assembly Wm. Fussleman.

Gov. Geary will review that portion of the 18th Division of the National Guards, situate in Allegheny county, on the tenth of September next. A grand display is expected.

The indications are that the Hon. J. E. Stevenson will be renominated by the Republicans of the Second Ohio district. His majority two years ago over Hon. Sam Cary, he of the horny hand, was 397.

A Republican consultation at Saratoga is reported to have resulted adversely to the policy of Mr. Greeley's nomination for Governor. The "rural districts" distrust the city, though they think well of H. G.

The Democracy of Titusville are plucky fellows. In the last six years they have started six new papers there, all of which, after a short career have "busted," and now they are about to try the reckless experiment again.

The person first named will take notice that he is chairman of said committee, and proceed at once to business by calling the committee together for organization and work—also, that he is a member of the County Committee, and promptly respond to the calls of the chairman.

Jas. H. Rankin, Chairman.

Isaac Lytle, Secretary.

A correspondent in Guernsey county Ohio, writes to John A. Bingham, to ask if he will accept a renomination for Congress, and Mr. Bingham replies: "I can only say that while I have not sought, and do not seek, a renomination, I shall count it my duty to cordially accept the action of the people in the premises, whatever it may be."

LET US HAVE NO STRIFE—CLOSE UP THE RANKS.

Republicans of Centre county, let us have no strife. Let us close up our ranks and prepare to battle against the cohorts of free trade and the same cunning copperhead enemy that sought to destroy the Nations life, and who gave us—the loyal men of the Country so much trouble during the slave holders Democratic rebellion.

We cannot believe that any loyal man—any friend of Protection to American labor, will so far forget himself and the duties he owes his family, his country, and his fellow man, as to array himself, against the great Republican party, its candidates, its men and measures, and be found voting with the enemies of the country, the Constitution and the laws. What loyal man, what true Republican will now turn his back, for any pretext whatever, upon the organization with which he has acted so long, and which has done so much in the past twelve years to save the country, to make it great, glorious and prosperous?

We are glad to believe that our party in our county is a unite. We believe that as the campaign opens up every good and true Republican will fall into line, and work shoulder to shoulder with us for protection and victory; Yet we cannot refrain from laying before our readers, the following article from the Beaver Radical. It is full of truth and good sense, and we hope it will be read and heeded by all.

The danger to be apprehended by any party which has been forced to assume the responsibilities of Government in this country for ten years is by no means light; and the responsibilities of governing for the last decade, have been peculiarly heavy and onerous. With a vigilant foe endowed with ordinary, or even a low average of common sense, the Republicans would occupy a very critical position to-day. But thanks to the amazing blunders of our foes, we have nothing to fear from them. Our danger is alone from the unwieldly bulk of our own party, and our disappointed politicians.

Men in our ranks, whose lack of capacity for successful leadership has been fully demonstrated, have met the fate which inevitably meets tried and proved failures. That nothing may be wanting to prove their littleness, they exhibit to us the last proof of the just estimate which the people have made of them. They yet believe themselves able to lead our party! Linked to these are a few adventurers whom we would describe by some other words than "carpet-baggers," if any other words could be found to describe them so briefly and exactly. These have no principles and respect for any, in their opinion, weak enough to be hampered by principles. They are needy adventurers, far more intent on plunder than the good of their country; far more anxious to line their pockets than to act for the general good; far more intent on interest than principle, and consequently the very mercenaries whom the cast off leaders buy and use to sound their praises and perform their dirty work.

In ordinary times—and warring against any party which has heretofore existed in this country—these parasites might work harm. Happily for us at this juncture, the great results at stake dwarf these barnacles, so that the ship is impeded only, and not stopped. The party which they have contracted to destroy, has too bright a history and too important a mission to fall before their treasonable defection. It will scarcely be in their power to do what years of war utterly failed to do; or to prevent what years of constant Democratic intrigue and opposition have failed to even retard. They may reinforce the Democracy, who despise them, with a hope to undo reconstruction, to wrest the ballot from the Negro, to repudiate the National debt, and disgrace the very name of America over the whole world; but their hope will be disappointed, and they alone will suffer, by being hung up in eternal infamy as double traitors—traitors to their country and to their party.

A new organization against Tammany in New York politics is the Workingmen's Central Union, which has resolved against Democratic extravagance and corruption, approving and indorsing Grant's administration and agreeing to co-operate with good citizens in the city of New York and the State, to organize and form clubs for the purpose of rescuing the city and State from misrule and misgovernment. Working men will always find it to their interest to fight against the Democratic party, free trade and ruin.

GOLD pen wipers, at Jno. I. Rankin's for 25 cents.

ACCIDENT.—R. J. Doak, a painter, fell from the scaffolding of Robt. McKnight's new house, on Thursday last, severely spraining his right ankle.

WHAT IS IT?—Can any body tell us what Jerry Butts is making on the corner of Bishop and Allegheny St's? We would like to know. Does Jerry know himself?

MISTAKE.—We stated two weeks ago that John B. Awl was putting down a tar or pattent pavement. We were mistaken. He has replaced the old with a first rate brick pavement.

GROCERIES.—A. T. Boggs New Grocery Store in Milesburg is the place to go for good and cheap groceries. While Milesburg is growing rapidly, and running up her reputation higher than ever before, A. T. Boggs says, groceries are coming down, and must come down, to the gold value. Good for Boggs. We wish him success.

J. D. Miller the book seller & stationer, sells all kinds of school books cheaper than any other dealer in the county.

MORE ENTERPRISE.—Irwin & Wilson, have commenced the erection of another new building adjoining the one recently built by them. The first will be occupied by them as a Hard ware and Cutlery store, the second by F. S. Wilson as a Drug Store. Frank is one of the safest and most correct druggists in this country. His business has gradually increased until his present room has become quite too small.

School Books just new and at low rates at Rankin's.

NICE HOGS.—W. D. Rikard, besides keeping the fastest horses in this country, has decidedly the best lot of hogs we have seen in town or country this summer. He prides himself in his horses and hogs; he likes to drive the former, and feed the latter, but at the same time he knows how to keep a Hotel, and has made the Bush House a success. To this his boarders will all bear testimony.

PENSIONERS LOOK HERE.—There will be a voucher prepared and sent to each claimants P. O. address, by the U. S. Pension agents in Philadelphia. All that will be necessary will be on or after the 5th of September, to sign them properly, have them witnessed and acknowledged before R. C. Cheeseman, Notary Public and Claim Agent, Bellefonte, Pa., and the draft for the same will be sent direct to claimant's address.

For school books, slates, copy books, ink, &c., go to Jno. I. Rankin, Bush House Block.

PLEASANT RIDE.—On Tuesday of last week in company with Hiram Lucas of Howard, we left Bellefonte for a pleasant ride. The horse and buggy belonged to Mr. Lucas. The horse was an iron gray, rising five years old well built and well trained. We started on our trip, and we are free to say that we have never ridden behind a safer horse or better traveler. Mr. Lucas informed us that he would sell the horse provided he could get his price. Persons wishing to buy a good family horse should call upon Mr. Lucas. We would like to own it. If we did we could give the copperhead ticket a 2,40 chase this fall.

THE RAG PICKER'S DOCTOR.—Late Vienna papers relate the close of a somewhat noteworthy life—of the Doctor of the rag-pickers of that city. This man, who was for the last years of his life the acknowledged Doctor to the rag-gatherers' guild, was in early life a physician to the best society, a physician of the newest fashion, an ornament of the aristocratic saloons. He was unfortunately addicted to drink, and after losing his great practice in the higher circles, and then in the middle classes, he at last found himself the physician to the rag-pickers. He was followed to the grave by the whole guild, and some two or three of his earlier friends.—Exchange.

If you want any thing in the book & stationary line from a slate pencil to a Bible costing $45,00 go to the book & stationery store of J. D. MILLER.

CARRIAGE.—The place to get fine, good and servicable carriages is at the Milesburg Carriage Manufactory—Messrs. Shirer & Williams Proprietors. They took the premium last fall at the county fair, over all competitors, and but a few days, since, they were in town with one of the handsomest carriages we have ever seen. Some person informed us that P. G. Meek purchased it, saying that he intended to take the over land route to Harrisburg next winter. If the Democratic secesh wagon does not break down and spill Meek out before the election, and if there are enough semi-rebels and secessionists in Centre County to elect him, on his record, for the third time to the Legislature, then, we say we have no objections to his riding there in one of Shirer & Williams neat and handsome carriages; but confess we would prefer to see him take his last ride in one of Johnny McDermits carts; because we think he deserves no better. Oh! Meek, that record ought to kill you; but if you can escape and go, in one of Shirer & Williams carriages, why go. But it is more than you deserve. If the ignorant scoundrel Capt. Wirz was hung for the part he took in the rebellion, what we ask should your fate be, for the course you took, intelligent as you claim to be, and with all the light of the nineteenth century beaming effulgently upon your path-way?

School Books! School Books!! at Rankin's, in Bush House Block.

GRAND RALLY.—In obedience to the public call of the chairman, Jas. H. Rankin, Esq., the Republicans met in the Court House on Wednesday evening the 24 inst. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Rankin, who announced the following officers,

Peter Wilson	President
Robert Kendell	Vice Presidents
John Thompson	do
James Love	do
C. G. Ryman	do
Geo. M. Swartz	do
Amos E. Clemson	do
Edward Loyd	do
Benj. Ligget	do
John Alexander	do
Capt. M. Runkle	do
Jefferson B. Way	do
John Daily	do
S. Durbin Gray Esq., Dr. J. W. Faust,	Sect'a.

Whereupon the President vice Presidents and Secretaries took their respective seats, and Mr. Rankin, without any introductory remarks or preliminary speech announced the name of Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong, our able and efficient member of Congress, as the first speaker.

As we took no notes of the meeting or speeches, and as the Secretaries have been derelict in duty in not having handed us a report of the meeting or speeches, it is out of our power now to report the same. Notwithstanding the dereliction of the Secretaries, we are able thanks to our middling good memory, to say that Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong made a most powerful speech, full of strong points, facts, and unanswerable arguments. He commenced by thanking the intellegent, sturdy Republicans of Centre for the manner in which they had stood by him in former years and for the endorsement given his course in Congress and for the vote given by the recent county Convention declaring him the choice of the organization, for re-election to Congress. He then most fully and satisfactorily explained the why's and wherefores of his absence when the vote was taken on the question of the tariff on pig-iron. The reasons given were, we taink, so satisfactory and clear, as to leave no grounds for complaint, to any reasonable man.

He then entered into the discussion of the tariff question and showed conclusively that he was master of that subject. It was the relation of the tariff to the great question of American labor, that made this subject so important to the American people. He demonstrated that every dollar that entered into the manufacture of a ton of iron over and above the intrinsic value of the same was labor—American labor. If we bought a ton of English iron for $30, $28 of that amount was paid for English labor, while our own laborers under the Democratic or free trade system would be out of employment or compelled to work for, and compete with, the ruinous low wages of England, France and other manufacturing countries. Carry out, said Mr. Armstrong, this ruinous British free trade policy so warmly and strenuously advocated by the Democratic party and you close at once all the furnaces, forges, rolling mills, woolen and other manufactories in the United States, and throw out of employment thousands and tens of thousands of our sturdy sons of toil. What Republican, what American citizen will vote to bring about such a deplorable state of affairs? A vote for the Democratic party was a vote in favor of free trade and free trade meant nothing, if it did not mean low wages, idleness, starvation, wretchedness, to the American workingman.

He then gave the reasons which lead to the adoption of the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments, and showed to the satisfaction of all present that the adoption of these measures were just as necessary, to the salvation and perpetuity of the Government as was the calling out of millions of men to suppress the slave-holders rebellion.

He then took up the currency question, the funding bill, &c., &c., and showed that Congress had done the very best for the country which could be done under the circumstances. Under the workings of the Acts passed by Congress in relation to the currency and other questions growing out of the same, Mr. Armstrong, said, that confidence would be restored, business everywhere revived and a specie basis finally reached without injury to the public, private, or individual business interests of the country or people.

His speech throughout was argumentative, strong and powerful, and was repeatedly greeted with rounds of applause by the intelligent and appreciative audience. We think we can safely say that there was not a Republican in that large assembly who did not feel proud of Mr. Armstrong—our faithful and able member of Congress. In closing his remarks Mr. Armstrong introduced to the audience Dr. Doane, of Williamsport. The Dr. came forth in response to call, without any coaxing. He commenced by saying that he was not a member of Congress. He had commenced life as a farmer and yet, he said, the smell of the barn-yard was on his boots and the hay-seed still in his hair. He said, that he had started out a Democrat and acted in good faith with that party for years, without being acquainted with it; but so soon as he fully made its acquaintance, and saw it in all its naked deformity and hideousness he withdrew from it and bade it farewell forever. The Dr. is a powerful and eloquent speaker and for more than one hour held his audience spell bound as it were, listening to the record of the Democratic party under the Administrations of Franklin Pierce and Jas. Buchanan, and all the way through the slave holders rebellion down to the present time. He spoke of the glorious record of the Republican party—its love of Liberty, its efforts in behalf of the working men of the Country, and its crowning glory the salvation of the Government and the Nation.

He exhorted the Republicans of Centre county to stand by their colors, to adhere faithfully to, and work indefatigably, for the glorious principles of the Republican party, its men, its measures. He pointed with pride to its war record, to the successful termination through its influence and efforts, of the most gigantic civil war ever recorded in the annals of history. It had in suppressing the rebellion saved the nations life, preserved the Government, perpetuated liberty and handed down, in connection with all these blessings, the glorious banner of the free—the stars and stripes, untarnished, full of honor, greatness and glory to our children and our children's children forever. Republicans of Centre, said Dr. Doane, stand by the Republican party as you would stand by your nearest and dearest friend. If you love liberty, if you believe in the golden rule of doing unto others as ye would that others should do unto you; if you believe in the justice the goodness, the mercy of God and the great and fundamental doctrine of "equal and exact justice to all men" vote the Republican ticket.

The Dr. having concluded his able and eloquent speech, A. B. Hutchison moved that a vote of thanks be tendered to Hon. Wm. H. Armstrong and Dr. Doane. The motion carried and the meeting adjourned. It was a good meeting and everybody went home determined to go to work for the success of our principles and the redemption of Centre county.

For the REPUBLICAN.

BLANCHARD, Pa., Aug. 28th, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

The base ball club of Blanchard, known as the "Snow Flakes," played a game with the "Fair Play" club of Beech Creek, on the 20th inst., resulting in a defeat of the Fair Play club of two to one; and not being satisfied they again on the 24th inst., played a second match game on the grounds of the Snow Flake. The Fair Play's seemed to be a picked nine from the various clubs of Beech Creek. We must confess that we never saw the Fair Play's play better than on this occasion, in fact their playing was astonishing—several of them played off the ground before the end of the game. The Snow Flakes lacked two of their players, and had to substitute two from the 2nd nine. This champion game resulted in a defeat of the Fair Plays of over two to one. The following is the score:

SUNNY SIDE.—The Proprietor of the Sunny Side Fruit and Seed Gardens—C. W. Lambert Esq., will please accept our thanks, for a fine lot of tomatoes presented us last week, Mr. Lambert, can boast of having tomatoes ripe at least two weeks, sooner than any of his neighbors, the finest smoothest, and most richly flavored tomatoes we have ever tasted. They are far superior to those brought from the Eastern Market gardens. Mr. Lambert has made a specialty of the fruit, seed and market gardening business. He understands it well. We hope he may succeed beyond his most sanguine expectations. His tomatoes are far superior to any we have ever seen. He is saving abundance of seed with a view to supplying the market next spring. Let our people everywhere patronize him in prefference to buying the worthless seeds with which the country is flooded every Spring by city dealers. Protect home industry, home men, home measures in preference to foreign is our motto.

JNO. T. JOHNSTON, P. M.

FILLING UP.—Our paper is filling up so rapidly with advertisements that we can scarcely get room either for political, local or news matter. Advertising pays. Our columns prove that our merchants and business men realize that fact. We hope they will continue to pour in, and in the meantime we say to our readers have patience, for just so soon as we can conveniently and financially, we will again enlarge the Republican thus making it one of the largest and best Republican papers and advertising mediums in central Pennsylvania. Our circulation is now rising 2,400. Fully 800 more than the Democratic Watchman, more than the Watchman, Reporter and Berichter combined.

A large supply of school books and school stationery has just been received at Millers book store in the P. O. building go and see him.

THANKS.—When any of our merchants or any other person makes us a nice present; we think it but just to acknowledge it. Acting upon this principle we would return our thanks to Pat M'Caffery & Co., Boot and Shoe dealers in this place, for a handsome and good pair of Slippers presented to us recently. Messres M'Caffery & Co., are enterprising men, understand their business well, and so far as we can learn treat all who deal with them fairly. Give them a trial.

Blessed are they who seek relief from "Liver Complaint," "Biliousness," severe lingering Coughs and Bronchits, by using Dr. Pierce's Alt. Ext. or Golden Medical Discovery, for they shall be happy in knowing that the cure is complete. $1,000 reward is offered by the proprietor for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all the diseases for which it is recommended. For constipation of the bowels and as a blood purifier, for the cure of Pimples and Blotches on the face, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, and all skin and Scrofulous diseases, this medicine is unequalled, Sold by druggists.

WOODS MEETING.—There will be a Woods Meeting held at the "Summit" on the B. E. V. R. R., six miles from Port Matilda, under the auspices of Port Matilda Circuit of the M. E. Church—commencing on Friday, Sept. 9th and continuing over the following Sabbath. The public are respectfully invited.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers, and particularly those of Penns Valley, to the advertisement of Alexander & Co., Milroy, Pa. They sell good cheap for cash. Produce taken in exchange for goods. For bargains, call at their establishment when visiting Milroy.

NOTICE.—School Directors would do well to remember that the law requires them to publish in two papers the receipts and expenses of their district at the close of the scholastic year.

CONTRASTED ADMINISTRATIONS.

[From the Chicago Republican.]

It is a favorite argument with the Democracy, when alluding to the heavy taxation which the war forced the Government to levy to preserve the public faith and credit, to point to the cheap Administration of Buchanan, and compare it with the assumed extravagant one of President Grant as an evidence of the greater economy of the party. No one is deceived by this pretence. It is well understood that the interest on the national debt, the immense pension list, the cost of national hospitals, and small increase in the army and navy are matters extra and outside of the ordinary expenses of the Government; and, except the two latter, are in process of steady and rapid reduction.

Coming, then, to the ordinary expenses of the National Administration, and allowing for the increase in population, and it is not true that Buchanan's Administration cost less per capita than President Grant's; but on the contrary it cost more. From a statement made out in the Treasury Department and officially promulgated, it is found that the last year of Buchanan's Administration cost the people $2.01 for each man, woman, and child in the country; while taking the expenses of the past year, estimating on a basis of forty millions of population, and reducing the sum to a gold basis, and the expense per head amounts to only $1.64.

In Buchanan's time the receipts and expenditures of the Treasury were both in gold, or coin exclusively. Very much of the apparent excess in expenditures since the war, grew out of the depreciation of the currency. This showed itself in every contract made, either for public works, buildings or supplies—and added to the bulk of the figures, without really adding to the value actually received. The war itself cost in paper one-third, if not a half, more than it would had specie payment been possible. It is the penalty the nation had to pay to save itself from destruction; and it is an especial grievance that the Democracy point to the result of their own machinations and treason as an evidence of dishonesty among loyal and patriotic men. To first incite a rebellion, then to apologize for, and justify it, and finally to charge the cost of suppressing it to those who shed their blood for the salvation of the country, is eminently characteristic of the party. But when to this they add a demand to be reinstated in authority because they created this enormous mischief, the affront to public intelligence exceeds all bounds of belief.

Long years of toil and labor will be required of the people to earn the money to pay the great aggregate debt which Democratic weakness and teachings entailed on them. And yet, when President Grant has but barely made a way to render certain the speedy extinguishment of the burden, they are already asking the taxpayers to trust them again, and give them a chance to undo all that has been done. If the people are as wise as we believe, whenever they cast a ballot they will remember who made the debt, and, until it is fully extinguished, will never venture the experiment of trusting its authors in a position to inflict more harm and misery on the country.

EVIL and idle words may seem as they are uttered, light and trivial things; yet if light, they are like the filaments of the thistle-down, each feathery tuft floating on the breeze, bears with it the germ of some noxious weed.

MARRIED.

On the 28th day of August, by Jesse Klinger, Esq., at the residence of the bride's father, in Spring township, Mr. Wm. Colpetzer and Phiana F. Wilson, all of Spring township.

On the 25th instant, at the Bride's residence by Rev. J. Benson Akers, Mr. Robert W. Downing of Half Moon township, to Miss Lavina B. daughter of Henry McMonigle Esq., of Fort Mathda.

DIED.

On Thursday morning, the 25th instant, at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Boalich, at the gate-house, near town, James Brown, Esq., in the 77th year of his age.

It has been said, "Whom the Gods love die young," but such a saying will not apply to the venerable and much respected old man of whose demise we are now speaking. Born in 1794, where everything American was in its primitive state, he retained, to the day of his death, many of the old fashioned notions and ideas of his youth and vigorous manhood. He was a strictly honest and virtuous man; hospitable, generous, warm-hearted, loving. His whole soul seemed to go out towards his friends, and no man ever asked him for food or shelter, and was turned away. He was an eminently social man, and loved to joke and tell stories, of which he always had a store at his command.

But death comes to all men, and it has at last cut down this sturdy, ancient, human tree. In the days of his glory, he was strong and power, ful but in the night of his affliction his physical frame gave way and left him but the wreck of his former self—as weak and weary as a little child. His last years were full of sorrow to him, and in the departure of his wife to the spirit land, he realized the bitterness which the keeping up of a life-long communion of congenial souls always brings to the one that is left behind. Earth lost its attraction and left him, like a lonely oak, blasted and withered by the storm.

Mr. Brown was a Presbyterian in sentiment and practice, and was a truly religious and good man. He lived the life of a practical christian, and died in the confident hope of a happy hereafter. He left the world without regret to join in heaven the wife of his youth and the loved companions of his earlier days. May his sleep be peaceful and the tears of his children keep the grass green above his grave.

Mr. Brown was the father of the editor of the Republican, and leaves six daughters, all living and all married, save one J. W. F.

An enterprising notion.

From here to San Francisco.
No more we take the ancient route,
The stage, a horrid slow thing;
It banged the passengers about
And wore out all their clothing.

NEW Patterns of

THE REPUBLICAN.

Wednesday Morning Aug. 31, 1870.

BARGAINS! BARGAINS!!

The Bellefonte REPUBLICAN and the "American Agriculturist."

We are now prepared to offer the people of Centre county, a Great Bargain for the coming year, It is this: To every subscriber who will send us $3.00 in advance, we will send the

for one year. Of the REPUBLICAN we need not speak at present.

The American Agriculturist is a work that no farmer nor housekeeper should be without. As a farm-journal we think it has no superior in the world—certainly none in the United States. It is issued monthly, and the subscription price is $1.50 per annum. By crubing with the REPUBLICAN you save fifty cents, and secure more good reading matter than you can obtain in any other way for the same money.

We hope the reading public will avail themselves of this very liberal offer.

Farm and Household.

The Crops.

From the Monthly Report of the Agricultural Department for July, we take the following statement in regard to the wheat and corn crops:

The great wheat growing districts all show a reduction in condition, rendering it certain that the crop of the year will be materially less than of 1869. Future reports of condition at and after harvesting are still elements of the ultimate estimate, but the average depreciation of 13 per cent, and the diminution in breadth of about 6 per cent, would make the present estimate about 210,000,000 bushels, the decrease being at least 48,000,000.

Some unevenness of yield appears in Pennsylvania; one-third of the crop in Union county has been destroyed by hail; rust and weevil were injurious in Montgomery; storms beat down the grain in Lehigh; the weevil did some damage in Luzerne. Late wheat was more injured by heavy rains than that which was sown early.

CORN.

The increase in the breadth of corn is greater than the decrease in acreage of wheat. It may be placed at 5 per cent., or about 1,750,000 acres. There appears to be a very slight increase in New England; about 2 per cent, in the Middle States; a decrease in the cotton States, east of the Mississippi; an advance of 7 or 8 per cent, in Southern States west of the Mississippi and a still larger increase in the heart of the west. It is estimated at 10 per cent, in Illinois, 10 in Indiana, 5 in Ohio, 2 in Michigan, 8 in Wisconsin, 20 in Minnesota, 15 in Iowa, 25 in Nebraska, and 15 in Kansas.

In condition this crop is above an average in almost every Western State. Nebraska is a decided exception. The New England and the Middle States present very uniform returns, full of high promises for the crop. In some cases, as in Columbia and Orleans, New York, the prospect is better than for several years. In the Carolinas wet weather has afected the appearance of corn, and prevented its cultivation and the destruction of grass and weeds. In the other cotton States, the crop is vigorous, of good color, and fine promise. In parts of Alabama it is less advanced than usual. In Monroe, Mississippi, corn has been drowned out on low lands by excess of rain, and some of it replanted.—Growth is at some points in Mississippi and Arkansas somewhat obstructed by grass, in consequence of wet weather; while in Claiborne County, Mississippi drought threatens to shorten the crop.

ENGLISH CROPS.

The following, relative to the crops of England, is an extract from a letter dated June 20, written by Geo. J. Abbott, esq., United States consul at Sheffield, England:

"A severe drought has prevailed throughout England, and more especially in the northern counties, for three months past. This drought has also extended to France, as you will see by the printed slips annexed to this letter

The hay crop will be a very smal one in this part of England. They are already commencing mowing, but the crop is light and hay has already advanced, and is advancing in price. The cattle have been turned out in many grass fields before mowing, the pastures no longer affording them food.

The wheat crop has also been much injured by the drought, and wheat has advanced in price.

The probability is that there will be a great demand both for wheat and hay from the United States."

CROPS IN GERMANY.

W. Prentiss Webster, United States consul at Frankfort, writes to the Department under date of June 20, as follows, in reference to the crops in Germany:

"The season has far enough advanced not only to indicate, but to sadly demonstrate, that the grain crop will not probably exceed one-third, and cannot equal one-half of its average amount. There has been no rain in any of the German States for the last four or five months. The land is dry and parched. The crops are hardening, and will scarcely mature at all. The hay crop will be useless, and not worth cutting. The prices of all kinds of breadstuffs are daily and almost hourly rising.

At Mentz, the principal grain market of western and southern Germany, the dealers hardly know at what price to sell. They describe the prospect as discouraging in the extreme, and expect a great rise in prices. Every day adds to the gloom and despondency of this community, who begin to believe that great suffering awaits the poor and laboring classes. In some parts of Prussia, farmers are beginning to sell their cattle on account of the already pressing costs and prices of keeping, so that poor beef is very cheap at the present time, and good fat beef is not to be found anywhere.

Temperance puts coal on the fire, flour in the barrel, vigor in the body, intelligence in the brain and spirit in the whole composition of man.

Two Des Moines (Iowa) girls have invented and patented a washing and cooking boiler.

Watering Horses.

Horses should be watered from a brook, pond or river, and not from wells or springs, as the well water is harder and colder, while the running stream is soft and rather warm. The preference of horses is for the soft, even though it be muddy water, to that which is hard. Horses should be allowed in summer time at least four waterings a day; and a half bucketful at a time and in winter a pailful may be allowed morning and evening, which is sufficient to assuage their thirst without causing them to bloat or puff up. Care should be taken that the horse is not put to work immediately after drinking a full bucket of water especially if required to go fast, because digestion and severe exertion can never go on together, and moreover purging is apt to ensue. In some cases, broken wind or heaves is thus produced. Avoid giving warm or tepid water to horses that are often driven from home because cold or well water will then perhaps be given them, which will be liable to produce a congestive chill, followed by lung fever, and in some cases colic. When horses are thus carefully watered, if one or more of them should refuse their accustomed food, something is wrong and they should not be taken out of the stable to work or driven further that day; but an examination should be made as to the cause with a view to its remedy. —McClure's New Stable Guide.

How to Fatten a Poor Horse.

Many good horses devour large quantities of grain and hay, and still continue thin and poor. The food eaten is not properly assimilated. If the usual feed has been unground grain and hay, nothing but a change will effect any desirable alteration in the appearance of the annimal. In case oil meal cannot be obtained readily, mingle a bushel of flaxseed with a bushel of barley, one of oats, and another bushel of Indian corn, and let it be ground into a fine meal. This will be a fair proportion for all his feed. Or, the meal or barley, oats and corn, in equal quantities, may first be procured, and one-fourth part of oil cake mingled with it when the meal is sprinkled on cut feed. Feed two or three quarts of the mixture three times daily, with a peck of cut hay and straw. If the horse will eat that amount greedily, let the quantity be gradually increased, until he will eat four or six quarts at every feeding, three times a day. So long as the animal will eat this allowance, the quantity may be increased a little every day. But avoid the practice of allowing a horse to stand at a rack well filled with hay. In order to fatten a horse that has run down in flesh, the groom should be very particular to feed the animal no more than he will eat up clean and lick his manger for more.

For the REPUBLICAN.

FERGUSON TWP., Aug. 14th, 1870.

MESSRS. EDITORS:

A word to careless farmers. They never get time to drive a nail when a pailing comes off; they never get time to work on their by-roads or lanes, but let gutters wash deeper and deeper; no time to put upa post when one has been split; no time to put in a rail when one is broken; no time to cut down weeds and thistles; no time to nail on boards when they become low about the outbuildings, and yet they are said to do justice to their calling.

Never get their corn worked out to the end of the row, but leave it to grow up with weeds; never make any extra effort in hay harvest to get work done when the sun shines bright, and yet they do justice to their calling.

These and many other things that is overlooked, might be called necessary to the doing of justice to the farm or landlord.

It does not require very close observation to see that farmers are becoming more careless every year, and it is not strange that so many are hunting farms to rent; and perhaps there will be more looking out for other farms if there is not some improvement in many respects.

We hope that ere long it can be said in truth, they are doing justice to their calling.

AN OBSERVER.

MAKING SWEET PICKLES.—Pare cling stone peaches, just ripe. To four pounds of fruit allow two pounds of sugar, half-pint cider vinegar, tablespoonful of cinnamon, and one of cloves, tied in a thin rag.

Use a porcelain kettle. Boil the vinegar, sugar and spice until the sugar is melted, then add the fruit and boil until tender. Remove the fruit with a skimmer, and boil the liquor to a thick syrup; return the fruit and skim until done; pour out and let stand until cool, then seal up tight removing the spice. The same recipe answers for quinces, pears, cherries—quinces and pears to be first boiled tender in water.

LAMP CHIMNEYS.—Most people in cleaning lamp chimneys, use either a brush made of bristles twisted into wire, or a rag on the point of scissors. Both of these are bad; for without great care, the wire or scissors will scratch the glass as a diamond does, and under the expansive power of heat, the chimney soon breaks, as all scratched glass will. If you want a neat thing that costs but little and will save your glass, tie a piece of soft sponge, the size of your chimney to a pine stick.

AN elderly gentleman returning home from church began to extol the merits of the sermon to his son. Said he, "Jack I have heard one of the most delightful sermons ever delivered before a Christian society. It carried me to the gates of heaven." "Why didn't you dodge in?" replied Jack; "you will never have another such a chance."

A FRENCH gardener finding a piece of woolen cloth, which had lodged on a tree, covered with caterpillars, and upon the idea suggested, placed woolen rags in several trees. Every morning he found them covered with caterpillars, which he easily removed.

THE Poultry Bulletin says that carbolic acid has proved very effective in preventing and destroying vermin and in purifying the air about poultry-houses, and asks may not the excessive use of carbolic acid in close proximity to eggs destroy their fertility?

THE GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

MORE THAN 500,000 PERSONS Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey Proof Spirits, and Refuse Liquors, doctored spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Renovators," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine made from the native Roots and Herbs of California free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the Great Blood Purifier and Life Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator, of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE, and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In Bilious, Remittent, and Intermittent Fevers, these Bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French, and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion, or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Viscera Diseases.

MANHOOD

In the Young and Rising Generation-

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

If the patient be a female, the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety, as the first symptom in which Nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on; the energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so facinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

HELMBOLD'S

EXTRACT BUCHU

For Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision Languor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a hurried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatuity, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute—neither Mirth or Grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur, it is rarely articulate.

"With woeful measures wan Despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

Whilst we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the consequences.

Ayer's

Hair Vigor,

For restoring Grey Hair to its natural Vitality & Color.

A dress which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair, Fresh or gray hair is restored to its original color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparation dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMISTS.
